

ABSTRACT

A dehumidifying element includes a super absorbing polymer (SAP), and a hygroscopic base, thereby maintaining hygroscopic characteristics 5 regardless of aging and a high humidity absorbing rate and needing a smaller amount of energy for regeneration.
